The depth of the river at this point is variously estimated at from ten to twenty feet and when the iron and lumber wreckage struck the ice, it broke into fragments and those killed and several of the injured were thrown into the water or swept under the lee further down the stream.

The dead: MAMIE HIGGINBOTHAM, aged II CANNIE HUMPHREYS, aged 17 years. OLLIE GIBBS, aged 15 years.

The injured: ZELLA SMITH, aged 17; compound racture of elbow. WILLIAM HOLMES, colored, driver, ut and bruised HENRY FIELDER, driver; serious inernal injuries. ELMA TUCKER, aged 12; both arms ELMA TUCKER, aged 13; both arms and leg broken.

The bridge was a single span, 500 feet in length, and was built in 1872. It has been known to be unsafe for some time and heavy traffic was not allowed on it. The accident was caused by two cables on the north side slipning from their moorings. When that side dropped, another cable on the other side snapped, the floor tilted and turned completely over. During the Civil was the cable of this bridge was cut by Gen, Wise when he evacuated Charleston, the bridge at the same time being parity burned. The same cable was afterward spliced and has been in use ever since.

DAYS ARE LONG

So Saith the District Court.

"And the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th Were the Last Day."

As a Result, the Palmer Heirs Must Pay Inheritance Tax to the State.

Judge Hall handed down his decision in the matter of the W. D. Palmer estate yesterday. He decrees that the administrator must pay the State Treasurer in Inheritance tax.

The administrator's attorneys were contending that the statute Imposing the Inheritance tax was not valid at the time of W. D. Palmer's death. The law was of W. D. Paimer's death. The law was passed by the Législature of 1801. It was to take effect sixty days after the end of the session. Mr. Palmer died on May II. The journals of the Legislature show that the adjournment took place on March 14. The attorneys for the estate claimed that the real adjournment did not take place until March 17, three days after the date shown on the books.

Parole Evidence Barred.

Parole Evidence Barred.

The Attorney-General showed the certificate of the Secretary of State. This showed that the lawmakers adjourned on March 14. The attorneys for the administrator objected to the intraduction of this evidence, but Judge Hall overruled the objections. The attorneys for the administrator then offered to show by oral testimony that the actual adjournment was not antil three days later than the date shown by the Secretary's certificate. But purole evidence was hold by the court to be inadmissible to rebut the testimony afforded by the official certificate.

Heirs Will Appeal.

Heirs Will Appeal.

The court decrees that the Legislature of 1901 adjourned on March 1st that the Palmer estate is therefore liable to the inheritance faz. The administrator was ordered to file with the State Treasurer an appraisement of the estate. It is valued somewhere in the neighborhood of $250.00. The tax on this will be considerable, so the heirs will probably appear the case to the Supreme court.

Gentle Hint to Restaurant Patrons. The necessity for tipping with a lavish hand is strongly enforced in a restaurant near the station at Pompeli. In a prominent position is placed a gaudily framed sketch of the interior of the dining-room, with two clients taking their departure. One of them, a cowed looking individual, is struggling into his overcoat, while two watters stand near him, the one smiling derisively at the other, who displays a tiny coin with a gesture of ferce contempt. On the opposite side of the room a guest is seen, surrounded by three watters, one helping him with his coat, another brushing his hat the third lowing obsequiously and holding his walking stell.
